Press Release

Living Care Home Services, the leader in Quality In-Home Care Services in northeast Pennsylvania, is proud to announce it's partnership with Vision Media and Hugh Downs in presenting The National Medical Report on In-Home Care in America.

Living Care Home Services was chosen, as one of two providers of In-Home Health Care Services in Pennsylvania, to participate in a series of broadcasts on public television surrounding this important issue in the United States. Distribution of this series will also be available on top video-streaming web networks: Google Video, and YouTube as well as to WebMD.

Sean Lynch, President and founder of Living Care Home Services, was pleased to hear that Living Care was considered a leader of in-home care services in Northeast, PA. When I founded Living Care in 2001, I had a vision of providing a quality, caring service where people could feel safe in their own homes. Lynch stated that more and more seniors are being forced to leave their homes and move into assisted living facilities as a result of not having family members to step in and provide the help they need. Today's fast paced world is passing by the generation that made life in this country what it is today. It's sad to think that our society is too busy to provide the care for family members who need it but the reality is that two income families are the norm today.

Lynch says that it's really a very simple matter of understanding what type of help seniors need in order to stay in their homes, and then match them up with caregivers who have the skills and personalities to meet those needs. At Living Care Home Services, we feel it is equally as important to have a caregiver who has the skills needed as well as the compassion and personality required to form a meaningful relationship. Lynch stated that as an independent provider of in-home services, Living Care Home Services is free to take only jobs where we feel we have the correct caregivers to meet an individuals needs. We are very selective in our hiring and screening process and pass over many applicants who are in the field because they don't meet our basic philosophy. Lynch said that if we wouldn't send a caregiver to provide services for our own family, we wouldn't send them to care for someone else's.
